by giving grants. However, such institutions cannot deny admission to anyone based on their caste, colour, creed or even religion.

WRIT is a written order from the court or other legal authority ordering to do an act or not to do it.

3.3.6 Right to Constitutional Remedies

Fundamental Rights are guaranteed by the Constitution. By this right, a person can adopt Constitutional means and approach a court if he is denied the Fundamental Rights. The court then issues orders which are called 'Writs' to the government to restore the rights to the citizen. The Constitutional Remedies put to right anything which may be wrong in terms of the Constitution. This right therefore protects and safeguards all other rights.

PreethikaYashini won her right of employment by approaching the court according to the Right to Constitutional remedies.

As Yashini takes last step towards her SI dream, it's a giant leap for 3rd gender Chennai: Blazing a trail through intrinsic government and judicial processes, gritty transgender K Prithika Yashini has finally realised her dream of donning the uniform of a Tamil Nadu police sub-inspector.

The Madras high court on Thursday declared that she was entitled to be appointed sub-inspector of police. Calling for the creation of a separate category to accommodate transgenders in employments, the judges further said: "We are sure that by the time the next recruitment process is carried out, the (Tamil Nadu Uniformed Services Recruitment Board) TNUSRB would have taken corrective measures for including the third gender as a category."

Though Tamil Nadu police already has three transgenders on their rolls as constables, Yashini will be the first transgender officer in the force. Commending additional advocate general of Tamil Nadu P H Aravindh Pandian for his fair stand on the issue and Yashini's counsel Bhavani Subbaroyan, the first bench comprising Chief Justice Sanjay Kishan Kaul and Justice Pushpa Satheeskumar hoped that Yashini would carry out the duties of a police officer with "dedication and commitment to advance the causes of other transgenders."

The judges who helped her clear all hurdles on the way, said: "The social impact of such a recruitment cannot be lost sight of, as it would give strength to the case of transgenders. Yashini must reach the finish line, and not be stopped and disqualified in the middle."

Yashini was born to K Pradeep Kumar and remained a male till she completed her post-graduate diploma in computer application from Bharathiar University. Though she had felt sweeping changes in her gait and body even during her school days, Yashini said she could gather courage to assert herself only after joining a college.

K Prithika Yashini is the first transgender from Tamil Nadu to be selected for the post of sub-inspector

3.4 Fundamental Duties

These are in the form of duties and responsibilities of citizens. 'The original Constitution which came into force with effect from 26th January, 1950 did not contain Fundamental Duties.

These were incorporated in the Constitution by the 42nd Amendment Act in 1976. The Constitution states eleven Fundamental Duties as given below:

1. Respect for the Constitution and its ideals and institutions, the National Flag and the National Anthem.
2. To follow and cherish the noble ideals which inspired our National Struggle for freedom.
3. To uphold and protect the sovereignty, unity and integrity of India.
4. To defend the country and render national service when called upon to do so.
5. To promote harmony and spirit of common brotherhood amongst all the people of India, transcending religious, linguistic, regional or sectional diversities, to renounce practices derogatory to the dignity of women.
6. To value and preserve the rich heritage of our composite culture.
7. To protect and improve the natural environment including forests, lakes, rivers and wildlife and have compassion on living creatures.
8. To develop the scientific temper, humanism and the spirit of inquiry and reform.
9. To safeguard public property and to abjure from violence.
10. To strive towards excellence in all spheres of individual and collective activity, so that the nation constantly rises to higher levels of endeavour and achievements.
11. To provide opportunities for education by the parent and guardian to their child or ward upto the age of 14 years.

Maintenance and welfare of parents and Senior Citizens Act, 2007 is a legislation passed in 2007 by the Government of India. This Act is a legal obligation for children and heirs to provide maintenance to senior citizens and parents.
