

productivity of paddy has increased more than three times.

The food grain production capacity, has increased about 3.5 times between 1965-66 and 2014-15.

We find that both the productivity and food production in Tamil Nadu continue to increase. However, the area under food grain cultivation has reduced in the same period. Though there was a reduction in the area of production, the total amount of production has been maintained and there is an increase of productivity.

Recap

- The number of people involved in agriculture and the land under cultivation is declining in Tamil Nadu.
- While the number of marginal farmers is increasing in India, it is decreasing steadily in Tamil Nadu.
- Out of the total geographical land area, only one percent is under cultivation and one fourth is left fallow.
- Areas with good water facilities can be cultivated upto three times a year.
- South West and North East monsoons are the main sources of water for agriculture in Tamil Nadu. So Tamil Nadu's agriculture is dependent on ground water.
- Crops are divided into food and non-food crops.
- Major food crops of Tamil Nadu are paddy, maize and ragi. Coconut stands first in non-food crops.
- Recent researches show that the productivity of crops is steadily increasing.
