3.3.3 Right against Exploitation:

It is against the law to employ children below 14 years of age in mines, factories or other occupations. Neither contractor nor an employer can force a worker to do a job against the their will.

3.3.4 Right to Freedom of Conscience and Religion:

This right gives the citizens freedom to follow and practice a religion of their choice.

All citizens have the freedom of conscience or ideas. The citizens also have the freedom to follow their own ways for practicing any religion.

3.3.5 Cultural and Educational Rights:

The Constitution gives us the right to preserve, protect and promote culture. We have the right to open schools, associations and societies to preserve and promote our tradition and culture. Similarly a group of people may open a school for imparting religious education to children. The government also promotes such activities

Differences Between Human Rights and Fundamental Rights

Human Rights	Fundamental Rights
• The rights that a human being deserves to survive with respect and freedoms.	• The elemental rights of the citizens of a country, which are listed in the constitution and enforce-able under the law is known as fundamental rights.
• Human rights include those rights which are basic to a real life and are absolute, i.e. it cannot be taken away.	• Fundamental rights includes only those rights which are basic to a normal life.
• Human rights are recognised at international level.	• Fundamental rights are guaranteed under the constitution of the country.

Human rights as declared by the UN, suggest minimum standards of rights to be adopted by Government and these serve more or less like Directive Principles.
